FOREWORD

With a brilliant flourish of the bugles and a sharp ruffle of the drums, the parade of years passes us by on the double. This book records the events of only one in that long line, but if in so doing that year appears as the color guard, the moment of deepest feeling, we have been successful.

The Montana State Board of Education is the controlling body of all the units of the Greater University of Montana, which is made up of the following institutions: Montana State College at Bozeman, Montana State University at Missoula, Montana School of Mines at Butte, Montana State Normal College at Dillon, Eastern Montana State Normal School at Billings, and the Northern Montana College at Havre. The Board of Education holds meetings several times a year at which times, reports, budgets and recommendations are submitted by the presidents of the institutions.

The Board is made up of eleven members, three of whom are ex-officio. The other eight members are appointed by the Governor and approved by the State Senate for terms of four years. The present members of the Board are: Elmer Holt, Governor, Ex-officio, President; Ray T. Nagle, Attorney General, Ex-officio; Elizabeth Ireland, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Ex-officio, Secretary; W. S. Davidson, Bozeman; E. C. Carruth, Havre; Frank Eliel, Dillon; A. O. Gullidge, Baker; Wallace Brennan, Missoula; Emmet J. Riley, Helena; Carl D. Borton, Glasgow, and W. M. Johnston, Billings.

At the time of Governor Frank H. Cooney's death during the present school year, the office of Ex-officio, President of the Board was filled by Cooney's successor, Elmer Holt.

During the time that the State Board of Education is not in session contact is maintained between the several units through an Executive Secretary, H. H. Swain, who has acted in that capacity since the Chancellorship system was abolished several years ago.

H. H. SWAIN
Executive Secretary

President
Alfred Atkinson

During his seventeen years in the office of President of Montana State College, Alfred Atkinson has been the guiding hand in building the institution to a place of prominence in the university world. But he has not stopped with this purpose accomplished. Instead he has looked into the future and has planned an even greater college, where students of future generations may have opportunities far excelling even the excellent ones of today which we, the students of this generation, have been so fortunate to obtain.

Montana State College is indeed fortunate to have such a man as President Atkinson to head the institution. He is an invaluable asset both to the students and to the whole field of education.

Administration

ETHELYN C. HARRISON

We feel that Ethelyn C. Harrison must be commended for her work during the past few years as Social Director at Montana State College. At all times she has had the needs and welfare of the students foremost in her mind. And the students have always benefited to an immeasurable extent from her wise and efficient counsel. She has always attempted to win for the students those things which would benefit them; things which they have needed most.

The students will always be thankful for her work in their behalf and will always remember her as a truly friendly advisor.

DEAN J. M. HAMILTON

Dean Hamilton will never be forgotten. He is the "Grand Old Man" of Montana State College. From the students, both old and new, he has won an undying love. Perhaps it may be said that he has been too kind, for a great share of his life has been sacrificed in the service of the students. He has never been too busy to aid the young men and women who are daily in contact with him.

Dean Hamilton is never thought of as a task-master but as a true friend from whom one may seek sound advise and receive able assistance.

Service Staff

Besides the four colleges included in Montana State College there are several departments not connected with any of the divisions but which, nevertheless, are vitally important to educational activities at the College. These departments have been called in a general way, the Service Staff.

Included in this classification are the departments of Economics, with R. R. Renne at the head of the department; Education and Psychology, headed by Leora M. Hapner; English, W. F. Brewer; History, Merrill G. Burlingame; Modern Languages, H. S. Cannon, and the Department of Music, Bert Hansen.

Another very important division of the College is the recently established General Division with R. H. Palmer as director. All these departments have had a happy influence on education at Montana State College by making it a school where a liberal education may be gained.

EDWIN HOWARD
Alumni Secretary

The Alumni Association

The principal purpose of any alumni association is to assist its alma mater in becoming a greater school; to win and hold its rank in the university world. Perhaps one of the best ways to do this is for the alumni association to aid not only past students, but present students in their contacts with the school. Therefore, the Montana State College Alumni Association, with Ed Howard, '35 as secretary, has kept the students always in mind and has attempted to bring them in closer relationship with each other and their school.

The local alumni association since the office was opened last September has been in charge of the Student Employment Bureau, has handled the activity books, the Student Loan Fund and is in charge of all organization and activity fee accounts under the direction of the Student Senate.

Alumni Secretary Howard is in charge of an alumni card index containing 16,000 names, and has a mailing list of 5,000 for the alumni publication, the Collegian. At various times during the year alumni get togethers are held. The office is especially active during Homecoming and Commencement Week.

JOHN C. TAYLOR

Extension Service

The Montana Extension Service with headquarters at Montana State College, headed by John C. Taylor, director, extends its services throughout the entire state through the county agents who are located in all sections of Montana. These men and women give information which they receive through the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Montana Agricultural Experiment Station to the farmers and ranchers, thereby aiding them in solving their everyday problems. Employed in this work are 34 Men agents, nine women or home demonstration agents and also ten emergency agents. Included in this department's work is the supervision of 4-H Club activities.

Experiment Station

On almost one thousand acres of ground located in the vicinity of Bozeman, the Montana Agricultural Experiment Station carries on experimental work in all branches of agriculture to aid the Montana farmers to become more successful. Working in connection with the Montana Agriculture Extension Service the results of the innumerable experiments conducted on the local farms and also the branch stations at Moccasin, Havre, and Corvallis, are made known to those Montana citizens who are engaged in agricultural work. In direct charge of the station is F. B. Linfield, the director and Dean of Agriculture at Montana State.

SENIORS

KELLY HANSEN—PRESIDENT

By the time students have reached their senior year they begin to feel the grasping needs of post college life. At this time the immediate college life begins to fade into the background for the more pressing needs. Even though college is not yet a memory it is fast becoming one. Most of a student's contacts in his senior year are pleasant ones. A senior has begun to cast a pleasant aurora around his college days. As time goes on this will become more hazy, and with the haze the college days will take on a much more pleasing and beautiful shade.

They will soon forget their college days except as four pleasant years to which they look back with longing, perhaps, to live once again. Most of them will probably never return but will always hold their college days among their most treasured memories. The seniors have realized their young ambitions of four years ago and must fulfill those that are now foremost in their minds.

JUNIORS

FRED GRINDE—PRESIDENT

As juniors the students are in the midst of their college careers. Their wisdom has increased with their years of study. To them life is a reality, and college is an important part of that life. They must meet and conquer certain serious problems which confront them. To them college is no more a playful pastime. It has turned to a very serious phase of life, and although they find pleasure in their associations it fades into the background in preference to the more immediate problems of life.

Rather than being on the outskirts of the college life, the junior is in the center of its whirling kaleidoscope of colorful events. They are an integral part of almost every college function. They have reached the peak of their college life and they enjoy it to the utmost. A junior, we may say, is a well-rounded and well-balanced college student.

LAMBERT HRUSKA--PRESIDENT

The sophomore begins to realize that there are many things in life that must be faced and conquered. In everyday college life many problems are met which must be dealt with in a serious manner. They begin to see the complexities of life. They are beginning to faintly grasp the idea of life and college. Much of their nonchalant playfulness is lost and they begin to plan for post-college life. They are learning efficiency and order in the performance of their daily college tasks. More is expected of them and they are able to do more.

The sophomore, however, still holds over from their freshman year a certain amount of excitement and adventure. The responsibilities of life in a large part are still a long ways in the distance and need not be met at the present time. They are allowed to understand enough to satisfy their new found need for information but never enough to confuse them.

FRESHMEN

EDWIN ALLARD—PRESIDENT

The Class of 1939 on September 23, 1935, began a new adventure in life. To them college is a new and exciting experience; for them there is much to learn and do. They are now known as college students, a nomenclature which has been their ambition for many years. Many plans are made and many of them are never fulfilled. Many hopes are shattered. However, to the whole of the Freshmen it is an exciting experience.

As the years go on they will forget many of their young ambitions and desires, and more concrete thoughts will be formulated. They will look over their freshman year with the regret that it is not possible to go back and live over again those pleasant days. The freshman possesses that elusive quality of being able to live in the present without any serious thought of the future.

BIG TEN

The Big Ten

The value of a college education is difficult to put down in concrete terms. A person probably could prepare himself for a decree by merely concentrating on a wide assortment of textbooks and by sheer memory work learn the theory of his course. It is our belief, however, that this is not what college education should be. By shutting himself off from the contacts of instructors and fellow students this person would be robbing himself of one of the principal assets of a college such as Montana State. We firmly believe that to be a thoroughly educated person one must participate in extra-curricular activities while in college. They offer the college man or woman something that he can never find in textbooks or from the classroom lectures.

It is to these students who have participated in extra-curricular activities and have still been able to keep up their scholastic standing that this section of the 1936 Montanan is dedicated. We believe that they are worthy of being honored in this way because they have availed themselves of a very important phase of college life and have become outstanding among their classmates during their four years of college.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the faculty committee who made the following selection of students. We can appreciate the fact that it was no easy task for them to say that ten and only ten seniors were worthy of this honor.

The Board of Publications consists of the Commissioner of Publications, the Editors of the Montanan and Exponent, the President of the Associated Students, and the Advisors of the two publications.

The Montanan is the annual publication of the Associated Students, who elect the Editor. If it were not for the excellent cooperation of the staff, the publishing of this book would not be possible. We have been free to call at any time on any member of the staff. It is not the work of the editor mainly, but of the rest of the staff who does a large part of the work.

The weekly student newspaper, the Montana Exponent, plays a large part in the student affairs. It contains happenings of the week with interesting news of the collegiate world. The editorial columns are noted for their well chosen subjects.

The Literati is the baby publication on the Montana State College campus. It is a humor magazine of repute. The stories and articles that appear in this publication are of high literary value. Its social comments are read by all with great interest. It is published once a month and is not an official publication of the Associated Students.

DRAMATICS

Director

Dramatics

PAUL GRIEDER
Technical Director

Perhaps never before in the history of Montana State College has the dramatic year been as outstanding as during 1935 and 1936. The opening play of the year was the famous old melodrama "East Lynne," and the local performance was one of outstanding merit.

The bigest production ever attempted on the college campus was presented during the winter quarter when Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet,' starring Katherine Duncan as Juliet, was offered. Despite the admitted difficulty in producing a Shakespearian tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet" was presented in Bozeman with a fine understanding of the play as Shakespeare wrote it. A great deal of credit is due to Bert Hansen and his capable cast and staff for the show.

The last show of the season was "The Bartered Bride," a comic opera, presented under the direction of Bert Hansen with the chorus and orchestra directed by Benjamin M. Goodsell, assisted by Mrs. A. R. Johansson.

A new English instructor at Montana College this year, Paul A. Grieder, had charge of all the technical side of the dramatic program and constructed some excellent scenery during the year.

MUSIC

Band Director

Band

In the past few years, the Bobcat Band has become the best known and the best organized band in Montana. This year's tour included stops at Big Timber, Harlowton, Lewistown, Roundup, Red Lodge, Billings, Baker, Wibaux, Glendive, Terry, Miles City, Forsyth, and Columbus. This year several instruments in the band were lighted with small electric lights and Drum Major Finn twirled an electrically lighted baton. This tour is a very valuable asset to Montana State College in making it known and in bringing students here. During the Spring quarter, a concert is give to the students at which selections are played that were given during the tour. Besides these formal concerts, the Band plays at all home football and basketball games as well as in Butte.

MONTANA STATE CONCERT BAND

Chorus and Orchestra

The formal concert given during the Winter quarter, and later in the spring, was enjoyed by everyone. During the Fall quarter the "Messiah" was given by the Orchestra and Chorus. This is considered one of the best oratorios that has ever been written. Everyone that heard it admitted that it was very well done, and it was enjoyed to the utmost. To add to the enjoyment of the plays, the Orchestra gives selections between acts. These concerts show that Lou Howard, Mrs. Johansson, and Mr. Goodsell have worked incessantly in order that music may have its place in college life. We must not forget the value of music in our hurried life today. Let us hope that music may hold a still higher place in the life of college students.

FORENSICS

Director of Forensics

Forensics

The 1935-36 Forensic teams had an exceptionally busy season discussing the national question, "Resolved: That Congress shall have the power to override by a two-thirds majority vote, decisions of the Supreme Court declaring laws unconstitutional."

The season opened with the Rocky Mountain Forensic Conference in Salt Lake City with Don Valiton, Carroll O'Rourke and Dana Law representing Montana State College. Valiton and O'Rourke took part in six debates, speaking on both sides of the question, "Resolved, That the United States government should own and operate all means of production." Montana tied for third place in the competition.

The men's team defeated a delegation from St. Thomas College in the middle of the year and later went to North Dakota State College for a contest there.

In March the Women's Team met Dillon here. Both the men and women teams then debated the University of Montana and the men's team met the School of Mines and Carroll College. The season closed with a debate with St. Mary's of California.

In many of this year's debates no judging is done and the decision is left to the audience. Director of forensics, Bert Hansen, feels that the next year's squad will be an excellent one for future competition.

The Little International

ROSS MILLER
Faculty Advisor

The purpose of the Little International Livestock Show is to encourage more interest in livestock work; to bring about a closer relationship among men pursuing some phase of agriculture as a profession; and to encourage a higher scholastic standard among the students. The awards for the Little International are based fifty percent upon showmanship and fifty percent upon the improvement the student has made on the appearance and conduct of the animal. A gold watch is awarded to the grand champion showman.

This year the Little International was held in conjunction with the wool-growers convention. It was adjudged a decided success by the almost one thousand sheepmen who attended.

The 1935 Crowd of High School Visitors

The 1936 High School Week

On April 30 and May 1 and 2 thirteen hundred High School students visited the Montana State College campus and were royally entertained by the college students. During its several years of existence High School Week has become one of the biggest functions of the school year. Every student, freshman, sophomore, junior or senior, in some way is active in entertaining the visitors. During the three days the high school students participate in mixers, dinners, scholastic contests; they are shown over the campus and special displays are arranged in the various departments for their benefit. They are also guests at the annual college musical comedy which was this year "The Bartered Bride." New features incorporated in this year's week included afternoon tea dances and a Shakespearian contest.

The success of high school week depends largely on the general committee which makes all arrangements for the entertainment and the welfare of the guests. At the head of the committee this year was Matt Miller, general chairman, and Anne Sanders, women's chairman. The faculty member as general High School Week Director was J. W. Hurst.

MOTHER'S DAY BANQUET—1935

Mothers' Day Celebration

In May, 1936, the students of Montana State College in honor of their mothers set aside two days coinciding with the national Mother's Day, respectfully dedicating them to their mothers.

With the second annual Mother's Day Celebration held May 9 and 10, the celebration has become a tradition, one of the finest on the Montana State campus. The recent celebration was in every way a success, and was attended by mothers from all parts of Montana. The reply to President Atkinson's welcome was this year extended on behalf of all the mothers by Mrs. V. B. d'Autremont of Roundup.

This year's Mother's Day Celebration was in charge of a committee of six, composed of Bert Hansen, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Harrison, Dean J. M. Hamilton, Donna Murdock, Elwood Wilson and Lester Willson.

This group planned an exceptionally interesting program of entertainment for the visitors. The program included a military review, a band exhibition, men's and women's athletic events, an afternoon tea, a banquet at the gymnasium, and a musical program by choral society and orchestra of the college. To conclude the program on Sunday the various fraternities and sororities entertained the guests and a reception was held at President Atkinson's home.

BEAUTY

The Montanan Queens

This year, feeling that some part of the annual should be devoted to Montana State's most beautiful girls, a secret committee of five students was asked to pick what they thought were the twenty-five most beautiful girls in school. This choice was based upon beauty alone. From this group of twenty-five girls the five most beautiful were chosen by a committee of five men not in school. Four were alumni and one was an out-of-state man. They were Elwood Wilson, Elmer Ward, Harold Murdock, Stew Avery, and Fred Fredell. These five queens, with the other twenty candidates, were presented at a dance given in their honor.

We are indeed proud to dedicate this section of the Montanan to those girls which are truly the most beautiful at Montana State College.

JACK CROFT
HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

On April 1 of this year Jack Croft took over the job of head football coach at Montana State College.

As yet we have not had the opportunity of watching the result of his work with the spring football squad, we have not been able to judge the quality of the new style of play he will undoubtedly introduce to the squad at Montana State. The only judgment that we can form of the new coach is, therefore, on the basis of his past record and his personality.

As to his past record, we find that he did an admirable job as assistant coach with the Utags, one of the best teams in the Rocky Mountain Conference. With the Aggies, we learn that he won the title with the squad as a "good fellow," one of the highest distinctions that a coach can win from his squad.

Croft, then, satisfies at least one requirement of a football coach. He has a likeable personality, one that instills confidence in the men who work under him. And with his past reputation we look forward to great things during his reign.

THE 1936 MONTANAN ATHLETIC AWARD

BILL STEBBINS

It is with pleasure that we take this opportunity to announce that Bill Stebbins has been chosen Montana State College's most representative athlete and has received the 1936 Montanan Athletic Award.

We sincerely believe that this type of recognition is desirable, not only because it may provide an incentive for individual improvement in athletics, but primarily because it recognizes ability and heralds the man who has consistently worked toward a higher standard in the field of sports.

With the idea in mind of establishing some kind of award in athletics the Montanan asked the Athletic Council to choose a man, using a set of qualifications which they, themselves, would draw up. In naming Bill, the council took the following standards into consideration: 1. Participation in all major sports; 2. Improvement in performance; 3. Leadership; 4. Scholarship, and 5. Personality.

Stebbins has participiated in track, football and basketball; he has shown a constant improvement in his performance (especially in football); he has proved his qualities of leadership by being basketball captain during the last year; he has maintained better than a "C" average in an engineering course, and he is liked by all his teammates as well as by the spectators. All in all, Stebbins is truly Montana State's most representative athlete.

Congratulations, Bill.

PRESIDENT - - - - - GAY KRAVIK

For the purpose of promoting a greater interest in athletics at Montana State College the "M" Club composed of all men who earned a letter in either a major or minor sport, was organized in 1912. Since that time the "M" Club has always fostered athletics at Montana State College. It brings into more intimate relationship the men wearing varsity letters and secures for its members the privileges due them as Montana State athletes.

The principal event of the year for the "M" Club, socially, was the Varsity Ball, held this year for the first time in cooperation with the Fangs. At this ball, as an additional feature, the football letters for the 1935 season were awarded. The "M" Club sweetheart, Miss Margaret Moser, reigned at this ball.

The Club is also active during High School Week when they sponsor a house decoration contest and in general act as hosts to high school athletes who are visitors.

Chairman - - - - - - - Dean D. B. Swingle.

The Athletic Council at Montana State College is directly in charge of athletics on the campus. The Council is composed of six members headed by Dean D. B. Swingle. Other members are R. R. Renne, treasurer; A. L. Strand, alumni member; Schubert Dyche, Director of Athletics; James Taylor, student representative, and John Breeden, basketball and track coach. Each major sport is represented in the council during its season by the manager.

The Athletic Council formulates the athletic policies of Montana State College, controls the athletic fund, ratifies schedules and nominates the manager of each major sport to the student body. In general, it may be said that the Athletic Council is the coordinating body between the student body and the athletic administration.

FOOTBALL

BOBCATS 7 — UTAH STATE 33

With a versatile attack the Utags took the Cats to the tune of 33-7. Although the Bobcats did their best it was not possible for them to hold the Utah team. The Utags scored in every quarter while the Cats only scored in the second period when a pass from Olivera to Purdum was completed. Utah made use of line bucks and passes to quite an extent. Ryan of Utah was the outstanding player of the game.

BOBCATS 7 — B. Y. U. 0

In the second game of the season the Cats gave a great exhibition of speed and power to triumph over Brigham Young University by the score of 7-0. The long distance punting of Bill Stebbins was responsible for the Cat win. The score was made early in the first quarter when the visitors fumbled one of Stebbins' 65-yard boots. Although the Cougars had a weight advantage, the Bobcat spirit could not be overcome.

BOBCATS 0 — UNIVERSITY 20

The hard fighting Bobcat aggregation lost this game to a superior Grizzly team. The Grizzlies made their scores in the first three quarters of the game. Line drives and passes were responsible. Bill Stebbins kept the Bears away from the goal many times by his long kicks. The Bobcats had the best team in Butte that they have had in years. However, the Grizzlies have also improved considerably over the past few years.

BOBCATS 0 — UTAH UNIVERSITY 47

Utah's touted team verified all advance reports when it defeated the Cats 47-0. The Cats did very well in the first half of the game holding the Utes to a 3-0 score. The Redskins, by sheer man power, then battered the Cats into submission. In the third quarter, taking what he believed to be a lateral pass, Oliver raced 70 yards to a touchdown. It was called back when the referee ruled it an illegal forward throw.

BOBCATS 0 — GREELEY STATE 6

The ball-toting of Hardin of the Teachers was responsible for their win. A bad kick by Montana State gave the Bears a decided advantage, and a few plays later they scored. The Cats made several threats which were not carried out. Late in the game they counted three successive first downs which was climaxed by a 15-yard pass from Taylor to Stebbins. Due to penalty they were not able to score.

BOBCATS 2 — WYOMING 6

In the face of a bitter blizzard Wyoming won a hard fought battle from Montana State. The Cowboys scored their only tally early in the first quarter of the game. In the third period the Cats downed a Wyoming man behind his own goal after punting out on the one-yard line. Both teams made large gains through the line due to the fact that the defensive linemen could not get their footing.

BOBCATS 7 — IDAHO SOUTHERN BRANCH 7

On a snow covered field Montana State and Idaho battled to a 7-7 tie. Idaho was favored to win, but the Cats were determined to keep them from it. Line drives and passes were the main features of the game. Idaho scored in the first quarter and Montana followed with seven points in the second period. During the second half both teams played a defensive ball while waiting for the breaks which did not come.

BOBCATS 0 — COLORADO STATE 14

Taking advantage of two fumbles by the Cats, Colorado State, in the first seven minutes of play, scored two touchdowns to win a hard fought battle. Although the Cats did not threaten the Tigers, they were able to hold Colorado scoreless for the rest of the game. Chik Heihalick, Tiger fullback, was the outstanding player of the game, scoring both of their touchdowns. Stebbins' punting was again an asset to the Cats.

BOBCATS 6 — MONTANA MINES 3

Montana State finished its season with a win over the School of Mines. Both scores were made in the last three minutes of the game. After Freebourn had carried the ball 59 yards to the States' 19-yard line the Mines kicked a field goal. The Cats marched the length of the field, and with 20 seconds left to play, Taylor went around the end for a touchdown. During the game neither team could make any headway.

The 1935 Season

According to the scores of the season's games, the Bobcats did not hit the top. We feel, however, that we have a good team, and that with a little more experience they will come to the front rapidly. The season started out with high hopes only to be dashed to the ground by Utah State in the first game. With the Cougars things began to look good. As time went on the Cats took many setbacks but always came back for more. During the season they won two, tied one, and lost six games. We are sure that the 1936 season will see the Bobcats well on top of the conference.

With the promotion of Schubert Dyche to Director of Athletics, Montana State will see a new man at the helm of the Bobcat squad. We wish to take this opportunity to wish Jack Croft luck with his 1936 Bobcats.

A large but green crop of frosh football men, sixty strong, reported to Coach Breeden with the advent of the 1935 football season. Under the expert eye of Coach Breeden they were rapidly rounded into shape and became a well-organized unit.

Due to a new Conference ruling which prevents frosh football teams in the Rocky Mountain Conference from participating in away from home games, only two games were played.

Early in the season, the yearlings defeated the Squaw Creek C. C. C. Camp 27 to 13. Displaying a heavy, fast-charging line and a hard blocking backfield, the frosh were more than a match for the C. C. C. boys.

Later as a tuneup for varsity home coming, the frosh and varsity met in a practice game. After holding the varsity to 12 to 0 at the half, the frosh weakened and were trailing 45 to 6 when the final gun sounded.

Due to lack of games upon which to base judgment, no numerals were awarded this year. Several men showed promise to greatly strengthen the varsity prospects next year, which are expected to be unusually bright. These men include:

ZUPAN

Montana State topped Utah 37-33 in the first game of their four-game series. The Utags were ahead at the half, but with the reinstatement of Stebbins, stellar guard, the Cats soon held the upper hand. It was a rough game with four men being put out on fouls.

In the second game of the series the Utags triumphed over Montana State in one of the roughest games ever seen at this college. Ryan's and Watson's sensational floor shots won the game for Utah State. With eleven points to his credit, Exum was the star for the Cats.

As defending conference champions, Utah State defeated the Bobcats by a score of 74-37. The Aggies did some very close guarding and kept the Cats away from their basket. Watson of the Utags and Doyra of the Cats shared honors for high points.

The last game of the series was a repeat for Utah with a score of 58-42. During the second half of the game Utah State used all their substitutes and kept the Cats well out of threatening range. Zupan was high point man for the Bobcats.

OGLE

The first game of the series was a very slow contest. The Redskins defeated the Cats by a score of 47-34. Kinner of Utah was high point man with a total of 28 points. The second half was rather desultory with many substitutions.

In the second game there was a decided improvement in the type of game. The Cats triumphed by a score of 37-33. Ogle was high point man for the Cats with sixteen tallies. Utah scored only four field goals in the second half. Stebbins, Cat guard, stopped Kinner's rush for points.

In the next game of the series, with the Cats leading at the half by a score of 20-19, Utah in a hard fought battle won 37-36. James, Utah guard, was responsible for the winning point. Kinner was high point man closely followed by Ogle.

The fourth game was a rough and tumble affair in which the Cats defeated the Redskins 49-43. The Cats led practically throughout the game in spite of the fact that Stebbins and Doyra were on the bench before the game was over. Exum and Wilde shared scoring honors with Ogle following.

TAYLOR

With neither team showing any edge, the Cougars won a 45-40 victory over the Cats. In the first part of the second half three men left the floor with their limit of personal fouls. Crowton and Giles of the visitors were responsible for the win. For the Cats Stebbins and Zupan were outstanding.

In a fast and accurate game the Cats of Montana State triumphed over the Cougars to win 42-40. In the first half the lead shifted every few minutes with both teams playing topnotch ball. During the second half the State led at all times. Crowton was high point man with Zupan a close second.

In the third game of the series the Cougars took the Cats into camp to the tune of 63-31. Crowton and Giles were the stars of the game. Doyra of the Cats was third in line for scoring honors with 10 points. The Bobcat defense crumpled under the strong B. Y. U. attack.

In the last game Montana State fighting hard brought down a tally of 42-39 in their favor. Crowton of the Cougars again led in scoring honors with Taylor, Cat forward, following. The surprised Cougars could not break up the Cats' strong defense or fast attack. This game evened the honors of the four-game series.

In the second game of their two-game series the Cats won a hard fought game 41-39. The Grizzlies were very accurate with their spectacular long shots. Glover of the University was high scorer with Exum and Doyra tied for second. Ogle, star guard, held Thompson to one field goal.

The 1936 Basketball Season

This year was the most successful the Bobcats have had in some time. Out of twelve conference games they won 5 and lost 7. The Cats placed third in the Western division and at all times were a potential threat to the conference leaders. The Bobcats scored two victories over the University to walk off with the State title. They played with much more spirit and fight than we have seen in many years. Graduation will cause no loss among members of the squad and, with a few good Freshmen coming up, we feel that the 1937 squad has a great year ahead of them. We know that everyone joins us in wishing the next year's squad good luck.

The 1935 Track Season

The 1935 track season was the most successful in several years for the Bobcats. John Breeden, head coach, produced a much better team than that of the previous season. His team won the first Annual Relay meet held at Montana State. This was the first major track meet won by the Cats since 1923. The team made a creditable showing in Missoula at the State Intercollegiate meet with 46 points.

Poor weather conditions made it impossible to work outside until late in April. The first chance Breeden had to see what his men could do was at the Intermural Relay meet. This meet showed several men of promise, such as Allard, Alexander, and White in the sprints, and Wills in the weights. Winning the Intercollegiate Relay meet proved the worth of the Bobcat track men.

This year's team was built up around Parke, Myers, Hedricks, Kramis, Doyra, Stober, Wiley, Heidel, and Vavich, all from last year's team.

INTERCOLLEGIATE RELAY MEET

Montana State College won the Intercollegiate Relay Meet, held May 4, 1935, by taking four out of seven first places and placing in every other event, collecting a total of 55½ points. Montana State University was second with 46 points, Billings Polytechnic third with 7½ points and Montana School of Mines, fourth with but one point.

Warm weather and a good crowd made the event one of the most popular of the athletic season. The most thrilling event was the 440 relay races in which Allard, Coey, Alexander and White defeated the University team which had competed in the Drake relays in 1934.

No records were broken, but the meet as a whole was packed with thrilling, fast races. John Breeden was in general charge of the meet. According to Director of Athletics Schubert Dyche, the Relay Carnival will be continued as an annual event.

STATE INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET

The University again captured the State Intercollegiate Track Meet, held in Missoula, May 18, 1935, by scoring a total of 81 points. The Montana State College Bobcats were second with 46 points.

There was only one record broken in the meet. Rhinehart, University colored flash, set a new state broadjump record with a leap of 22 feet 7½ inches. White, Bobcat freshman, was the sensation of the meet when he won both the 100- and 220-yard dashes over Peden who holds the Pacific Coast Conference record in the 220. Because of a high wind no records were broken in these events.

Other Bobcat stars in the meet were Myers, Kramis, Parke, Vavich and Stebbins.

MINOR SPORTS

Minor Sports

For the first time in the history of the minor sports meet with the University, Montana State was beaten in both wrestling and swimming. This was due largely to the lack of interest and the failure of men to turn out for the varsity teams.

However, we too often judge athletic teams on the basis of wins and losses. We lose sight of the fact that sport is for the sake of sport and not for victories alone. The benefits derived from minor sports are no less important than those of any other athletic activity.

We are proud of our minor sports teams and wish them the best of luck in the future.

WRESTLING

Three lettermen, Linthacum, Picchioni, and Overturf, returned to school to again don the tights for Montana State. Due to a football injury Overturf was forced to forego any competition this year.

Interest in the grappling art was not up to standard as an unusually small number turned out. Seven men made the trip to Missoula to compete with the University. Our team was defeated by a close margin, Linthacum and Tokerud being the only ones able to win their matches.

Members of the team are: Sprague, 118 pounds; Linthacum, 126 pounds; Picchioni, 135 pounds; Wirak, 145 pounds; Tokerud, 155 pounds; DeJarlais, 165 pounds; Higgins, 175 pounds.

SWIMMING

With the return of only one letterman from last year's team, swimming prospects were very poor. However, as the season progressed, the outlook brightened. With Bielenberg, the only letterman, showing fine form in the 100- and 40-yard free styles, and the development of Bruce in the breast stroke, and Nelson in the back stroke, hopes were again high for a successful season.

The dual meet with the University was closely contested all the way, with the opponents finally winning the free style relay and the meet. Those placing were Bielenberg, first in the 100-yard free style, and second in the 40-yard free style; Bruce, second in the breast stroke; Danna, second in the 220-yard free style; McBane, third in the diving; Nelson, first in the backstroke. The medley relay team of Bielenberg, Bruce, and Nelson easily won their event. Letter winners were Bielenberg, Bruce, and Nelson. With all of these men returning next year, swimming should again come into its own.

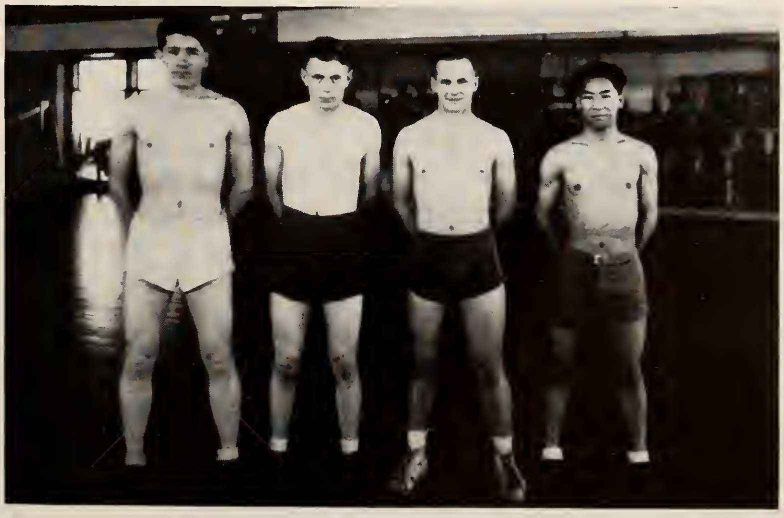
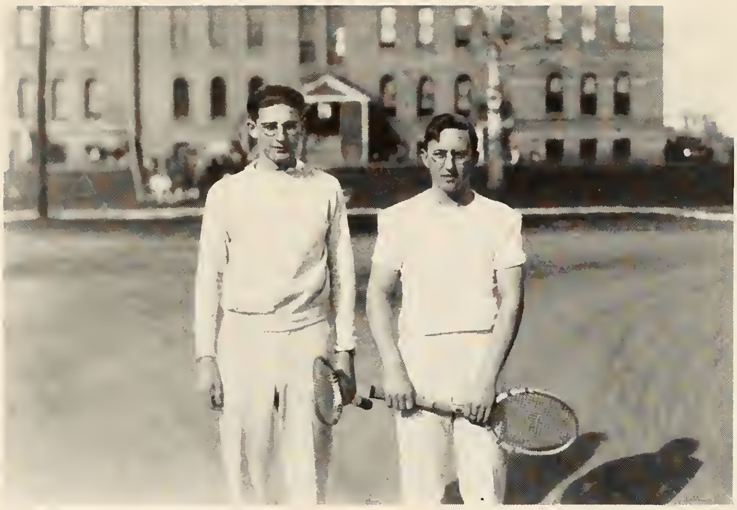
BOXING

Boxing, the infant of minor sports, suffered a set-back this year. Only five men represented Montana State.

In the meet with the University the Cats were decisively defeated, no man winning a match. However, all of the team will return next year and with valuable experience.

Members of the team are: Wong Son You, 126 pounds; Hanna, 135 pounds; Olivera, 145 pounds; Pool, 155 pounds; Turner, 165 pounds.





CHAUNER, FITCH

TENNIS

After a hotly contested all-school contest, Milton Chauner and Chester Fitch won the right to represent Montana State in the tennis contests with Montana University held in connection with the State track meet.

Lacking in experience, but possessing that quality so admired by every true sportsman—fight, they were defeated after hard battles. Since both men were freshmen, great things may be expected of them in the future. Tennis is decidedly on the upward trend at Montana State College.

GOLF

Even though the weather conditions make golf an uncertain sport, our golf team, composed of John Hays and Earl Sharp, were beaten only by the State Champion, Merhar, of the University team. This event, held in connection with the State Intercollegiate meet, and contested by all the higher educational institutions of Montana, brought out the cream of the Montana golfers.

In order to provide some recognition for senior women on the Montana State College campus, each spring on Women's Day a number of outstanding junior women are chosen to become members of Mortar Board, the national women's honorary organization which has more than fifty chapters throughout the United States. Requirements for membership in Mortar Board are based on scholastic standing, and leadership and service on the campus. Membership in Mortar Board is considered one of the principal honors to which a woman at Montana State College can attain. This year only five senior women hold this distinction.

During the school year various activities are sponsored by Mortar Board, the principal ones being a ladies' choice dance, a tea for recognition of outstanding junior women who are considered for membership in the organization, supervision of elections and a tea for transfer students. Mortar Board is also in charge of the arrangements for M-M-M Day.

With the principal purpose of creating, governing and perpetuating the customs and traditions of Montana State College, the organization of Septemviri was established in 1920. Membership in Septemviri is limited to seven men seniors who are selected by a faculty committee chosen by the President. Basis for this recognition is on scholarship, activities, personality and leadership. The members are chosen during their junior year, and the announcement of their selection is made on the Commencement program.

Although Septemviri is primarily an organization for recognition, some activity in connection with traditions is undertaken by the body. This year the organization, because they felt that it should be unnecessary to enforce a tradition that should live of its own accord, abolished the practice of swatting on the campus. They also revised and brought up to date the Montana State College traditions.

With the objective of fostering scholarship and character among students the national honorary organization of Phi Kappa Phi, which was founded at the University of Maine in 1897, was established on the Montana State College campus in 1921. Membership in Phi Kappa Phi includes both undergraduates and graduates. Students to attain membership must be in the upper one-fifth of the senior class in scholastic standing, must have an average grade of not less than 86 percent. The various departments of the institution are allowed only their pro-rata number to be eligible to Phi Kappa Phi.

Having as their motto, "The Love of Learning Rules the World," Phi Kappa Phi always strives to promote scholasticism in the institutions where they are organized by giving this very desirable type of recognition to students. One of their principal activities of the year on this campus is their annual Phi Kappa Phi banquet in honor of the initiates. Phi Kappa Phi also maintains a permanent record of all active members in the lower hallway of Montana Hall.

With its purpose of fostering high scholastic attainment among engineering students, election to the fraternity is limited to students chosen from the upper one-fourth of the senior class and the highest one-eighth of the junior class.

Although scholastic standing is on of the principal requirements for election to Tau Beta Pi, the society believes that character is a much more important requisite for membership. Alpha Lambda Delta is a national scholastic organization which stands for high scholarship among freshmen women. The requirements for admission into this group are to maintain a 90 average in all scholastic endeavor for one, two or three quarters; and to stand for high ideals in leadership and personality. Because it is such an honor to belong to this society, it really promotes scholarship among freshmen women.

Alpha Lambda Delta is very prominent throughout the state in organizing and maintaining the National Honor Society in high schools. Meetings are held every two weeks, where matters of business are discussed and acted upon. The freshmen women who are pledged into Alpha Lambda Delta are required to wear a prominent, multi-colored ribbon of white, yellow and red.

Alpha Lambda Delta was organized and established in 1930, and has been progressing rapidly until they are known throughout the state for their ability in scholarship.

By fostering an interest in scholastic attainment on the Montana State College campus the local chapter of the national honorary fraternity for freshman men, has seen its efforts well repaid during the last few years because of the continued rise in the freshmen scholastic ranking.

In order to have some material exhibit of proficiency in scholastic endeavor they have a nine-year plaque in circulation among the fraternities at Montana State College. The organization who wins this plaque a majority of times during the nine years is to have permanent possession. The fraternity whose freshmen have the highest scholastic average during the year has its name engraved on the plaque.

Requirements for admission to membership in Phi Eta Sigma are that a freshmen must have an average of ninety percent for the first quarter of the year, or an average of ninety for the entire year.

Spurs, a national service organization for sophomore women, has proved their value innumerable times on the Montana State College campus. At nearly every all-school function they are to be found participating in some way to aid the proceedings run more smoothly. They are also invaluable during High School Week. Members, who are chosen from the freshman class, are announced at the Women's Day Program in the spring. Students must participate in outside activities at the college, show desirable qualities of personality and character, and must maintain an average grade of 80 to be eligible for membership.

The Montana State College chapter of the Spurs is the mother chapter of the organization. The group has spread throughout the west since it was organized here in 1922.

One of the big events of the Spur year is their dance which is an all-school function held at the beginning of the winter quarter.

Intercollegiate Knights was founded at Washington University in 1922, and the same year the Fang Chapter was organized at Montana State College. It is a service organziation to uphold the campus traditions, usher at basketball games and help whenever needed. During High School Week they are active in aiding the guests to feel more at home on the campus. With the Spurs, the Fangs cooperate at all times, welcoming visiting athletic teams and performing the general functions of hosts to visitors. The Fangs also cooperate with Septemviri, seeing that the traditions of Montana State College are observed on the campus.

Besides the usual Fang pledging dance, this year the Fangs sponsored the Varsity Ball. This interesting new affair was held after a Conference basketball game. As an added attraction at the dance the football letters for the past season were announced.

JOHN ROBINSON

The first honorary organization to be established on the Montana State College campus was Les Bouffons which began activities in 1900. The organization is composed of 10 men seniors who are named and presented to the student body at the Les Bouffons formal dance held each spring. For the last few years the Les Bouffons have been choosing an All-School Queen who is also presented at the dance.

Les Bouffons activities are centered around social affairs. Regular meetings for the purpose of discussing campus social affairs are held. The men chosen for membership are selected on the basis of character, popularity and social qualities.

The Les Bouffons respectfully dedicate this page to John Robinson, an initiate of last year. John met with an untimely accident last summer, much to the deep sorrow of everyone who knew him. He was a student of high character and ability, loved by all. John was a true friend, and we regret that there are no words that will express our grief at his passing. We are sure that he has found happiness.

The students of Montana State College are kept in a closer contact and understanding of the R. O. T. C. unit at the college by Scabbard and Blade, a national honorary military fraternity founded at Wisconsin in 1904. Through this organization is offered a means to the members of keeping in close touch with the newest advancements in military science. The chapter at Montana State is one of the many which have now been established all over the United States. It was installed here in 1925.

Eligibility for membership in Scabbard and Blade is based on satisfactory qualities of leadership and personality of students who take the advance courses in Military Science. The Military Ball, sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, is one of the most colorful parties held during the winter quarter. The sponsors of the R. O. T. C. Companies and the new Scabbard and Blade pledges are announced at this ball.

Alpha Chi Sigma is a national professional chemical society organized to promote a better spirit of cooperation among chemists, to promote the science of chemistry, and to encourage association between the chemists of the world. This society is, therefore, very prominent in the development of the science of chemistry.

The collegiate chapters, such as the one on the local campus, are affiliated with the professional chapters, which are made up of graduate students who have been admitted to the fraternity when students in college. The students who are now members are aided in securing positions and arranging contacts through membership in the society. Members are selected as to whether or not they show promise of making chemistry their life work from the entire group of students majoring in chemistry.

Alpha Zeta is the national honorary agricultural fraternity on the campus. Its members are picked from the upper two-fifths of the classes of juniors and seniors majoring in agriculture. The members are picked on a basis of scholarship, leadership, personality and character. The purpose of this honorary fraternity is to foster interest in agricultural development and to encourage its members to be leaders in agricultural lines.

Each year Alpha Zeta fraternity picks the outstanding freshman majoring in agriculture, of the previous year and engraves his name on the Alpha Zeta trophy. This is one of the highest honors an agricultural student can attain during his entire college career. Meetings of Alpha Zeta are held every two weeks in the Agricultural Building when speeches are given for the broadening and educational interests of all the members.

In order to increase interest in art appreciation on the Montana State College campus the local chapter of Delta Phi Delta, a national honorary art organization, each year sponsors many art projects with the intention of bringing the field of art to the layman's attention. One of the principal projects is done in conjunction with the local chapter of the American Federation of Arts and consists of showing a series of art exhibits each year in the gallery of the Engineering Building. The organization also cooperates with the Art Club in an art bazaar held each year just before Christmas. In the spring of the year an exhibit of the work done by the members of Delta Phi Delta is shown.

To be eligible for membership in Delta Phi Delta a student must have completed five quarters work in the art course with a B average in all art subjects and a C average in other courses.

A technical school is indeed a fruitful field for an organization stressing appreciation of the so-called cultural subjects. Such an organization is the Eurodelphian Society, which came to the Montana State campus in 1926 at the petition of the local Literary Society. The aim of the club may be said to be the development of an understanding and appreciation of literature, art, music, and dancing. Membership is awarded upon the completion of a successful try-out which must show outstanding talent and interest.

All the college students receive a direct benefit from the club in two ways. As the Society is a member of the Book of the Month Club they have seen fit to place these books in the main library; they also present their talent in a general assembly once a year. Regular meetings are held twice a month and during the year these include several outstanding programs.

In 1920 a local organization known as the Band Club was installed into the national honorary band fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi, and since that time the fraternity has been active on the local campus in promoting a fraternal feeling between members of the varsity, concert and military bands; in arranging serenades and concerts to bring the bands before the general public, and to provide an incentive for musically inclined students to become more proficient in their art.

The Band Club, out of which grew the local chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, was organized as a club within the Montana State College Regimental Band and is generally thought of as the first organization of its kind in the United States. The present director of band music at Montana State College, Lou Howard, aided materially in getting a national band organization founded and has been the guiding hand in the local organization.

Lambda Phi Kappa is honorary secretarial fraternity for junior and senior men and women. The requirements for admission are to maintain an 85 average in all commercial subjects and an 80 average in all academic subjects. The purpose of this society is to encourage higher scholastic and ethical standards and to create an interest in fellow secretarial students. The fraternity was established in 1930 and has maintained an unimpeachable record for every year of endeavor.

Lambda Phi Kappa is very prominent in social and scholastic activities on the campus. Every year they help purchase the trophy awarded to the school that collects the most points in High School Week vocational competition. They also help sponsor the banquet held for the prospective teachers, principals, and instructors for the purpose of establishing closer contact between the prospective teachers and their future associates.

Phi Sigma is the National Biological Fraternity of Young Scientists. The local chapter was established in Montana State College in 1925. The object of Phi Sigma is to promote interest in biology and associated sciences among the young scientists of the college. Members are selected from the Entomology, Zoology, Botany and Bacteriology, and Applied Science departments. The requirements to be a member of this fraternity are to be outstanding in scholarship, character, and individual endeavor.

The meetings are featured by discussions and speeches on the biological sciences. In this manner, the young people of this fraternity cultivate an interest and curiosity about biology, which aids in the promotion of this science for its members and the world.

In order to promote an active interest in the subject of home economics the Montana State College home economics department several years ago joined the national honorary home economics fraternity, Phi Upsilon Omicron. To this organization junior and senior women whose major is home economics are each year elected on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, character and professional interest.

The purpose of Phi Upsilon Omicron is to promote professional interest and friendship among home economics students, and the local chapter has admirably accomplished this purpose in the last few years through the various activites they have sponsored on the campus. The local chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron maintains a thousand-dollar loan fund for junior and senior students in home economics. Also it has established and maintains the Edith Franks Memorial Library in Herrick Hall.

Pi Delta Nu

Chemistry is a comparatively recent addition to the curricula of the colleges of the United States, and it is especially so for women. It is thereby vitally necessary that some contact be maintained between the women who express an interest in the subject and who desire that chemistry become more than merely another college subject to them. It was with this thought in mind of making this sort of contact possible that Pi Delta Nu was established on the Montana State College campus as an honorary chemistry fraternity for women.

During its years of existence Pi Delta Nu has more than justified its founding, because it has actively awakened and held the interest of co-eds in chemistry, and the honor that goes with membership in Pi Delta Nu has provided an incentive for all college women to work toward proficiency in chemistry. Requirements for admission to Pi Delta Nu are that a student must have completed a general course in the subject and have at least a minor in chemistry. Pi Delta Nu also assists in placing its members in positions after graduation.

Spartanians was organized at Montana State College in 1929 on a platform encouraging health, scholarship, sportsmanship and leadership. It is an honorary athletic fraternity for upperclass women who are admitted to membership upon their achievements in athletics and in college in general. Five quarters' work with a scholastic average of B, excellent health, leadership in sports, and outstanding work in athletics, and as many points as are required for the Bobcat Sweater award are the requirements for a person to be eligible for membership.

The officials bureau sponsored by the club provides the officials with the chance to conduct all meets and competitive sports in women's athletics. The club also cooperates with the Women's Athletic Association to promote athletics at Montana State College.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Agricultural Club

PRESIDENT
LEONARD ELIASON

The Agricultural Club was organized, not only to give its members a wider contact and create a greater interest in agriculture, but also to provide other social contacts with their other college activities. Any student majoring in an agricultural course is eligible for membership.

The club sponsors each year the Little International, a very interesting display of agricultural products raised at the college. This year the Little International was held in January and almost one thousand wool growers were guests at the show. The High School Week program also benefits by the activities of the club because they award medals to the winning judging teams and arrange interesting displays. The Ag Ball at which the Ag Queen is presented is a yearly social function sponsored by the club. Meetings are held twice a month, enabling the members to hear talks by men prominent in the professional agricultural field.

American Institute of Electrical Engineers

CHAIRMAN
LOUIS BREWER

The student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was founded at M. S. C. in 1907, and is one of the oldest branches in the country. The institute affords the student an opportunity to gain a proper perspective of electrical engineering and to become more intimately acquainted with this profession. Nationally famous engineers often give lectures about new developments in this field to the group. The members of the branch are kept informed of the proceedings of the entire institute by a report sent out to them. This binds all the branches closer together and increases the benefits received by the members.

Weekly meetings are held to enable members to discuss various articles which they have read in engineering magazines or have heard about. Exhibits are arranged for High School Week by the members.

American Society of Chemical Engineers

PRESIDENT
MAURICE WALTERS

At times there is a necessity for cooperation between students in the same and related fields. The Chemical Engineers Club, organized in 1932 as a local unit and receiving its national charter from the American Society of Chemical Engineers in 1934, has attempted this cooperation in a practical manner.

Besides keeping its members in close contact with the professional field and broadening the students' views of Chemical Engineering, the group works with the American Chemical Society in bringing well-known chemists and engineers to lecture to the campus community. Joint meetings are held with the American Chemical Society and interesting experiments and displays are set up for High School Week. The business of the club is transacted at bi-monthly luncheon meetings.

American Society of Mechanical Engineers

PRESIDENT
JOHN SYMONDS

Mechanical engineers throughout the United States are organized into the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The Mechanical Engineers Club, organized at M. S. C. in 1914, was affiliated with the national group in 1929.

The national society sponsors an interesting contest each year. A one hundred and fifty dollar award is given for the best paper on some definite engineering subject chosen by the society and, also, it gives two awards of twenty-five dollars each on any interesting development in engineering.

The market research conducted by the society is very interesting. Several senior members interview officials of well-known concerns. A report is then sent in to the offices at Washington.

Ten or twelve students go to the Northwestern convention each year. One of these students is elected to give a report to the other delegates at the convention.

Architectural Club

PRESIDENT
JACK REED

Much may be gained by an association of men with the same interests when they are not particularly restricted by the more or less rigid requirements of schooling. It was with this idea in mind that in 1919 members of the Architectural Department organized the Architectural Club. The members have found this association quite inspiring. They have become acquainted with the problems and standards of their profession and have enjoyed friendships that have extended into professional fields.

The hall on the top floor of the Engineering building is lined with interesting drawings and sketches prepared by its members. New achievements and studies of the club prepared in exhibits interesting to anyone are open to M. S. C. students several times a year. Fine cooperation is given to all campus activities which during High School Week reaches its height in the entertainment of visiting students.

Art Club

PRESIDENT
ELLA DORIS PLEISSNER

The Art Club was founded in the fall of 1910 to bind the art students of Montana State College into a firmer alliance. It creates a friendly and cooperative spirit among its members in both cultural and social relations. Lectures featuring well-known authorities in the field of art are arranged for the members of the club.

A Christmas bazaar is sponsored by the club during the fall quarter. This art bazaar enables the students and people of Bozeman to purchase many interesting and useful novelties which are imported from the East. The profits from the bazaar are used to maintain the club's membership in the Print Collectors' Society, which provides prints of the paintings done by contemporary artists.

Engineering Physics Club

PRESIDENT
ROY WIEGAND

Montana State College students who major in physics are kept in more intimate contact with this vital subject through the Engineering Physics Club. The club was organized in 1928 when students in the physics course recognized the need for such an organization to keep them up to date in their profession. Weekly meetings are held to enable members to discuss new developments in Physics.

Visiting high school students, here for High School Week, always remember the exhibit of the Physics Department. Because of the aciivities of the Engineering Physics Club in preparing this exhibit, it has always proved to be one of the most interesting and novel displays on the campus. The Engineering Physics Club also proves to be a valuable contact between the students registered in the department and brings them in close relationship.

Home Economics Club

PRESIDENT
LOIS EAMES

The Home Economics Club was founded in 1895 as one of the first student organizations at Montana State College. All students registered in the home economics course are eligible to membership. Business and social meetings held at regular intervals by the club not only develop a more professional attitude of the members toward home economics, but also have a more intimate value—the strengthening of the bonds of friendship between the club members. The yearly projects of the Home Economics Club are also worthwhile, benefiting both the college and the club. In 1934-1935 the club purchased a radio which they have placed in the Fireplace Room in Herrick Hall.

For a number of years the Home Economics Club has been affiliated with the American Home Economics Association as a student club and each year sends a delegate to the national convention of this organization. The value of this contact is not to be underestimated. It is a valuable association with the home economics profession, and gives the student a broader outlook into the field.

Independent Club

CLIFFORD DAVIS

The Independent Club is the only organization on the campus that brings together the Independent men and women for strong organization and general "get-togethers." It has acted in this office for five years, being established in 1931. It holds meetings every two weeks when occasionally speakers are called in to talk on different subjects for the interest and enlightenment of the group. There are about 50 members in this group, making it one of the largest organized bodies on the campus.

The Independent Club is very prominent in activities during the entire year. It performs the same duties and meets the same obligations as the social fraternities during high school week, and has dances and parties throughout the year. The mark of distinction of this club is the fine fellowship and cooperation shown by every member.

Newman Club

PRESIDENT
TONY OLIVERA

The Newman Club, a national organization to which all Catholic students are eligible, was organized at Montana State College in 1925. It had been started here in 1917, but was not affiliated with the national group at that time. The club was organized to promote friendship and good fellowship among its members.

Meetings, at which a breakfast is served to the members, are held once a month. A dance is sponsored by the club during the winter quarter, while a picnic is held during the spring session. Both of these events are well-attended and serve to bring the students together in social relationship.

With the conclusion of the first year of the Quadrangle's existence, it is generally recognized that the plan has proved successful. During the past year all of the six units that comprise the Quadrangle have been filled; three with sorority groups, the Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, and Alpha Gamma Delta; two with independent and sorority women, and one with a group of faculty.

To decide questions of policy and management a Quadrangle Council meets at regular intervals. Through the Council mutual problems of the several units are solved and a sense of unity between the groups is maintained. Two representatives from each of the units and the Quadrangle dietitian, Miss Marian Scholl, are members of the council.

ADVER

Appreciation

The staff of the 1936 Montanan feels that it must express sincere appreciation to the advertisers that appear on the following pages.

To the student we say that it would be impossible to publish a book of such high quality as the Montanan if it were not for them.

This year the advertisers have come to our assistance in a better manner than ever before. Not only local, but also firms from other cities helped us in, what we believe, something worth while.

We feel that not only we, but also the students, are indebted to the names you will read in this section.

Features

In writing these bits of humor we have tried to make this section of interest to you. We hope that no one will take offense at these statements as they are only meant to give enjoyment and fun to those who glance through these pages.

We hope that you have enjoyed this book. Please glance through this section and note every advertiser whose name appears here. For their cooperation they deserve at least this favor.

COAL—

This greatest of all of Nature's manifold gifts enters into almost everything we do, whether directly or indirectly. At the rate of 2,000,000 tons a day, it is transported hundreds of miles and then under the alchemy of science, transmitted into a thousand forms—heat for fireside, light for darkness, motion for the railroad train, power for the factory, fertility for the soil, and innumerable other forms or uses.

In the last 100 years, only 1% of the coal resources of the UNITED STATES have been used

Shall we mention Shube Dyche's awful jokes? Okeh, here's one: One day he said to Kravik: "Gay, what Major Bowes legged?" Shube also plays the flute. Aside from the jokes we'd like to compliment Dyche on his intramural program. It's one of the best things that the school offers, bar none.

And Harry Ellis—the guy that really works over there. He knows more about parallel bars and trapezes than Ringling Brothers. He can spin a baton, toss dumbbells, tie himself up in knots and flunk guys. The only thing he draws the line at is Stewy's Greek dancing.

What would Prof Good do without a table to pound; or Hansen without a stand around which to wind his feet; or Cappon without a table to sit on; or Copeland without 26 pages of notes; or Howard without a cigar; or Sheppard without a hair cut; or Spaulding with a shoe shine; or Tallman without ten pencils, or Bowman without short pants? But what would the school do without them (the profs, we mean).

And then there's the Service Department. Unsung heroes you might say. But, may we gripe again? The Montanan's blind is still unfixed, and they still have one of our chairs.

Another year is about to close and for the most part it has been successful. And speaking of success, we realize that that is the real goal toward which we all strive! The road to success is paved with good judgment. Poor judgment is the road to disaster. YOU BE THE JUDGE! That is the Penney Company's slogan. People are judging; that explains our present success. But you ain't heard nothin yet.

the fraternities are the Sigma chi, the sigma Alpha epsilon, the lambda Chi, the Pi kappa Alpha, the alpha gamma Rho, the Omega Beta, and the kappa sigma. Most of them are nice big houses covered with vines and mortgages and stuff. The Sig Alphs as they are called have a big barn too but they put some neon sign stuff like what's on the sody parlor at bridge creek outside the house, so their pledges won't get in the wrong place. Right catty corner cross the street is the Sigma chi House, which the Sig alphs call the Chinee Laundry which is an insult to the Chinee, ma, I think. Further down the street is the O. B.s, the only thing that I know about them is that they have got a lot of nasty songs about them which the other fraternities sing.

The Reason Why

That MOLLOY MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value. The Montanan, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY MADE covers "away back when"—and the MOLLOY trademark on the cover of this 1936 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the country.

I like the Alpha gamma rhos pretty much, ma. I sure feel at home there. It smells just like spring on the farm. And then there's the lambda Chis they sure got a crowd down there, it looks like they tried to rope and halter every guy what come down here to school. They got so many guys they take their finger prints. There is one place I forgot to mention, they have a big brown place like Hank Durman's new feed barn at Bridge creek, remember, ma? They is the Kappa sigma. they used to hev a lot of wrestlers, ma, but all they do now is toss the bull. And the pi Kaps, too have a nice place. They own the student prexy, ma, which I hear is some pumpkins.

HOLLOWAY'S
A Store for College Men

You should have been a sorority gal, ma, they sure have fun. and they all get along pretty well, too; except the Chi Os who are jealous of the neat looking bunch of heifers the Pi Phis rounded up and vice versa. And it's the same with all of them, ma. They all say hello so sweet, but you know they all feel like Hank Durman did when his mule kicked him in the manure pile on the day that his bay horse broke her leg and they had to shoot her.

But to go on, ma, and tell you about some more of the girls. The alpha Gamms have a very affable bunch of bags, ma. You know I won't be able to talk like a white man when I git home if I keep this up. But, anyway they hev got a lot of activities and some of them can sing purty sweet too. Down the street a piece is the Kappa Deltas—a sort of a shy bunch, ma. You gotta kappa eye on em so to speak. Yeh man! (that's the way the paper editor here talks. He sure has a breezy personality—blow, blow, blow alla time). The alpha O pis live way down the street as they are independent and stuff. You dassn't get fresh with em; they'll sure knock you on your two spot.

You will find understanding and experience plus unsurpassed workmanship if you commit your school annual to our care.

As I was sayin, ma, I intended to let you in on the social life here at college. The most often social bees is things called firesides, which the different houses throw. When I say throw, ma, I mean gettin aholt and throwin. There is no fire 98% of the times. It ain't necessary in most cases as the gals are pretty torrid. At least they think so—they sort of slink around and ooze at you. Sure nuff, when you ogle back, they come out of it and say Dohavvacupacokowontshoo? This applies to all the gals up heer, ma.

The next barn dance I cicked up my spurs at is what they call fall parties, ma. And I tell you I fell all over the floor. Some galoot hed put a lot of wax on the floor instead of the straw that we used at that last housewarmin to make the floor slippery. The females come dressed in long dresses that make it so the dance hall janitor doesn't need to sweep up in the morning. The boys just wear dark suits with doohickeys on the back they call pleats. It looks just like the suit uncle Joe wears to all the funerals only he ain't got no doohickeys on his.

And then they hev what they call formals, ma. My girl showed her formall over the place. They wear dresses what are still longer only they got less on top. And the boys wears coats with satin on the front. And funny stiff white shirts with little buttons that are any color. They call em studs, only it ain't got nothin to do with a horse, ma.

they hev formals for everything. In fact the soldiers hev a formal thet they call the military ball. It ain't a game, ma, but everybody sure has a good time. But the trouble with a lot of the formals is thet they have to hev a queen. Ma, there ain't enough girls to go around fur all the queens, you better tell Sally Perkins to come down to school next yeer, I know she's cross eyed and her buck teeth is a lot more prominent than our mule's, but they hev so many queens that they got to hev more girls, and with me behind her I bet she can get to be Astronomer's queen or maybe the Phi eta sigma sweetheart.

Well, ma, there's lots of other things, but the same peeple go to them, the only difference is thet they hev them at different places, and they wear different clothes. So now, as I'm getting sleepy and I hev to study my advanced barn cleaning, I think I'll quit.

Acknowledgments

The job of "putting out a yearbook" is in no sense a one or two man affair. During the course of the year the Montanan has been aided in one way or another by a host of people and we wish at this time to say "Thanks" to them. We realize that we can probably never repay them in full for the help they have given us. Their assistance represents more than a mere passing interest in the Montanan and without this interest a book of this quality would not be possible.

To all you guys and gals of the staff we are especially appreciative. You have been swell throughout the year. Some of you have spent a little more time on the book than others so to Kay Duncan, the art editor; Marj Niel, our stenog; Jack Harper, accountant; Bob Hanson, photographer; Mary Hoepfner, handywoman whenever there was a job to be done; Jim Finn, star copy writer; Kay Busch, our chief assistant at mounting pictures; Jim Taylor, athletic editor; Roy Stewart, ad manager, and Ed Deschamps, ag editor, we are tossing a little larger bunch of roses.

Many outsiders are deserving of much praise for their help toward the success of the annual. So 'thanks" are in order for Doug McCallum, of the Tribune Printing and Supply Company, our printers; Fred Fredell, of Buckbee Mears, the Engravers; Bertil Linfield of the Linfield Studio.

BERNARD COPPING, Editor

ED BROWN, Business Manager
